Welcome to the Inteleos Credentialing Examination for Fetal Heart Monitoring

Welcome to the Inteleos Credentialing Examination for Fetal Heart Monitoring. This assessment focuses on the role of electronic fetal monitoring in the management of obstetrical cases.

The Inteleos examination allows participants to demonstrate knowledge and judgment of fetal heart rate monitoring principles defined by national consensus. Leading experts in the United States have been involved in development of the credentialing examination for fetal heart monitoring.

You will be asked to apply your judgment in the management of clinical cases and to demonstrate your knowledge of current guidelines.

Inteleos is committed to improving the quality of Maternal – Fetal Medicine medical services by providing state of the art educational programs, and evidence-based, statistically valid monitoring systems to evaluate current practices and facilitate the transition of emerging technologies into clinical care.

The Inteleos credentialing examination in EFM is open to physicians, nurses, and others involved in management of labor and delivery patients.

Inteleos recognizes that fetal intolerance to labor may have long-term sequelae. Standardized language, knowledge, and protocols related to fetal heart monitoring contribute to fetal safety.

Registration information and results from the examination are the sole property of the Inteleos.
